

Riu Palace Aruba officially opens tomorrow

As promised, the Riu Palace Aruba will accept its first guests this week, with what promises to be one of Aruba's most unique resorts. Already displaying a distinctly memorable architecture, the long anticipated opening will be without fanfare, but on time.

The formally simple pool deck has been converted into a double free form pool connected by a Jacuzzi and sporting a swim up bar. Additionally found poolside is the Nautilus Steak and Grill House terraced restaurant as is the "Don Nicolas" restaurant, both offering breathtaking views and non-smoking sections. Other eateries on premises include Krystal Restaurant for gourmet dining, and Sayuri and Milano for Japanese and Italian cuisine.
